

TRANSFER PHOTOGRAPHS FROM CAMERA TO COMPUTER

- Turn on the computer and open Kodak EasyShare Software
- Use cable to connect your camera to the USB port of the computer, turn the camera on
- Click 'Add Pictures' button, a new 'Add Picture' window will show up
- Under 'Select a location' you will see the identity of your camera on the left side of this window, and on the right side you will see all the pictures on the storage card in the camera
- You can click 'Select All' button at the top of this new window, or click individual pictures that you want to add to the software
- In the box under '3. Select or type in a new album destination' type in today's date (e.g. 2007-02-01)
- Click the blue 'Add Pictures' button under 4, the button turns to amber colour, and you can see the transfer taking place, depending on how many pictures and the file size
- Click the blue 'Done' button, and this window will close
- The original window shows up again with the new album '2007-02-01' highlighted on the left side and the pictures on the right side
- You can change the size of the pictures by moving the slider on the right upper corner of the program (under ? Help button), move the slider to the left makes the pictures smaller, move it to the right makes the pictures bigger